

SOUTHERN FOREST HERITAGE MUSEUM AND RESEARCH CENTER

The still processing 2021 finding aid of the Southern Forest Heritage Museum (SFHM) archives in the research center. These are the collections that have been cataloged and accessioned so far in the year 2021. Each collection tells the number it is accessioned under in the program CatalogIt and by the other number given to it by SFHM. It also mentions where the collection is located—in the storage archives or electronically on an external hard drive. One can also find some of the entries in the online archives (CatalogIt Hub) by looking for the Object ID number on the entries. The collection summary will indicate which collections are available online.

For questions or more information, please email director@forestheritagemuseum.org or southernforestheritagemuseum@gmail.com with the subject line: ARCHIVES. For archival donations, please go to the research tab on the website and download the form or email to ask for one.

Thank you.

Red River & Gulf Railroad (mix)

The RR&G was incorporated in Louisiana on April 21, 1905, for the purpose of acquiring and operating a railroad extending from Lecompte. Its parents were the Crowell & Spencer Lumber Company log tram and the stockholders of the Crowell & Spencer Lumber Company. The last train ran on March 30, 1954 and the rails were removed by that May. The RR&G was gone except for the segment between Long Leaf Jct. and Long Leaf, which was sold to Crowell Long Leaf Lumber to serve the mill and is still in place today at SFHM.

World War II

World War II brought to Louisiana the construction of new military facilities and the expansion of existing ones such as Camps Beauregard, Livingston, Claiborne and (now Fort) Polk. These camps and others throughout the state trained soldiers in the Louisiana Maneuvers and brought construction jobs to Louisiana.

Louisiana Maneuvers (1941-1943)

Newspaper articles from the Times-Picayune out of New Orleans that featured the work and critiques of the Louisiana Maneuvers.

Accession Number/Object ID:2021.8.54 to 127
